Video Devotional for Parental Encouragement

Never Too Late

Your children are not kids anymore. They are young adults, and some are even out of the house. The problem is that they are struggling with their faith. The mission of parenting doesn't end when our kids become adults, but it does change. This series will encourage you that you are not alone and that it is not too late for God to use you to point your adult child's heart toward Christ.

You're on Your Own (But I'm Here If You Need Me): Mentoring Your Child During the College Years

Parents whose kids are away at college have a tough tightrope to walk: they naturally want to stay connected to their children, yet they also need to let go. What's more, kids often send mixed messages: they crave space, but they rely on their parents' advice and assistance. Not surprisingly, it's hard to know when it's appropriate to get involved in your child's life and when it's better to back off. This book helps parents identify the boundaries between necessary involvement and respect for their child's independence.
